

I designed my own logo to reflect the multifaceted nature of who I am—a fashion enthusiast who expresses herself differently in different settings. Yet, no matter the version of me you meet, my passion for fashion always shines through—whether it's in how I dress or the way I light up when someone asks, 'What do you love the most?' This logo is my personal form of expression.

